International German Trainer Hans Schmideler

November 30th - December 10th, 2015

Hans's has been training horses and riders for over 45 years. He is an International course designer as well as an FEI Dressage trainer. His students and horses are tremendously successful in International Dressage and Jumper competitions throughout Europe (with well over 50 wins in the Grand Prix). With his history as an international course designer, Hans's clinics are in constant demand.

In his current training schedule, Hans continues to help British Team member Nikki Crisp rise to further success in International Dressage competition.

It is not often one will have the opportunity to learn from such an experienced horseman. We are grateful to have him back for an 8th year. Hans arrives through the recommendation of Klaus Balkenhol and Hugo Simon.

"Hans has an eye for defining the underlying conformation and balance issues which can slow down progress in training. He is able to suggest specific exercises to overcome the issues."

Cathy McWilliams

"My lessons with Hans where enjoyable, productive for myself and my horse and definitely something I will repeat."

Dr. Mark Jordan DVM

"Hans possesses a gift for uncovering the core issues which will help promote more harmonious connection between horse and rider. The rider will finish his or her lesson understanding why and how they have become successful."
